BIOGRAPHY

Andrea is an award-winning young composer with experience composing for feature films, series and video games. Andrea recently composed the score for the French film 'After the Fire' which will be screening at the Toronto Film Festival in 2023. In 2021, Andrea composed the music for 'The Legionnaire' by director Hleb Papou, winner of the Best Emerging Director Award at the 74th Locarno Film Festival. He also composed the score for acclaimed revenge thriller 'Violation', which premiered at the Sundance Film Festival in 2021 and was nominated for five Canadian Screen Awards.

Previously, Andrea scored TV series 'Veleno', by director Hugo Berkeley, winner of the Italian Golden Globe for Best Documentary. He was an orchestrator on Matteo Garrone's 'Pinocchio', working with Academy Award-winning composer Dario Marianelli. His music for the video games 'Card Shark' and 'Astrologaster' has been critically acclaimed. In 2019, 'Astrologaster' received several music award nominations, and was featured on the BBC Radio 3 programme 'Sound of Gaming'.

Andrea's scores have been awarded internationally by film music juries and at film festivals. His themes have been defined as tasteful and emotionally effective. He received the Prix Cinézik for the original music of 'Scaramouche Scaramouche' (dir. Arthur Mólard) at the 20th Aubagne International Film Festival. He was also awarded the Universal Music Publishing Award at the 14th Cortinametraggio film festival, for the music of 'The Interpreter' by Hleb Papou. In 2015, he received a Jerry Goldsmith Award for his composition 'Song for Adele'.

Andrea is an alumnus of The Royal College of Music, Berlinale Talents and The Hospital Club Emerging Creatives Programme.
